FAIRVIEW PARK JUNIOR WOMEN'S CLUB

VOL. V No. 2 October, 1960

OUR PRESIDENT SPEAKS

...Joy Hamilton

Our club year is off to a good start thanks to all of you who showed your enthusiasm by signing up for committee work or activities. If you missed the kick-off in September, there's still time to get in on things at the October meeting.

Welcome to our two new Board-Members-at-Large, Shirley Moir and Pat Steiner.

Hope you all have not put your golf clubs away just because it's October--get out in this lovely autumn weather and enjoy these days before the snow starts flying.

I know we're all appreciative of our FAIRVIEWS, but have you ever stopped to realize the amount of work that goes into each issue?

First, your editor, Joy Summers, must decide the general lay-out of what the issue will contain. Assignments are given, and then reporters and columnists begin ferreting the news. After they have composed their copy and hand them into Joy, she combines them with editorial comments into a general layout. Next comes a final consultation with Co-Chairman Joy Verrell. The final lay-out is made, and Joy Verrell types all stencils.

Staff Artist Lu Petto does the cover stencil and any special art-work. Any incidental art-work is done by Rita Nichols when she takes over on production. Rita sets up and runs the mimeograph machine and then gets the committee together to assemble the paper. The committee staples and folds each copy, pastes on the address labels, and gets them to the Post Office for mailing.

I give my heartfelt thanks to this group for the terrific job they're doing.

GENERAL MEETING

October 17,1960

8:00 P.M. * Bain Cabin

Graciously consenting to change her schedule, Mrs. Dorothy Markes McKelvey, Historian of Baldwin-Wallace College, will be our speaker Monday evening.

Mrs. McKelvey is an authority on antiques, particularly glass, and she is listed in the 1960 edition of Who's Who of American Women. Mrs. McKelvey is a graduate of Baldwin-Wallace and recently received their Alumni Merit Award.

Our club sends its wishes for the rapid recovery of Judge Margaret Spellacy who had been slated to be our speaker for this meeting.

While the small hobgoblins have not yet appeared on our streets, we will start off the Halloween festivities with a "Trick or Treat" arranged by Jo Chrysler and Alice Kneen of the Ways and Means Committee. Be sure to bring one or more quarters and one or more White Pumpkins (Halloween for White Elephant).

Hostesses will be Betty Marek, and Pat Mack. Marjorie Priest and Mary Williams are our Social Chairman and Co-Chairman.

******

WELL--DID YOU?

Did you give your blood today?
We hope you did, for true.
Someone will have need of it
Let's pray it won't be you!

We're beating the Bongo drums to remind you of the Fairnighters' dance Friday, October 14th, at the Olmsted Lodge, from 9 to 1. Be sure to dress as a beatnik and enjoy the music of Dr. Kaase's band. Guest tickets are $3.75 per couple; please phone reservations to Bernice Wilson. Coffee and doughnuts will be served; set-ups are available.

Semi-formal Dance, November 12

HARVEST FANTASY

The lovely color tones of autumn-- golden shades of brown, bronze and bittersweet,

The listenable, dancable music of
Chuck Heck,

Will make an evening of pleasure to remember...

Our HARVEST FANTASY will be held November 12 from 10 til 2 A.M. at the U.A.W. Social Hall on Brookpark Road. Guests are more than welcome, and a raffle will be held.

Tickets, $4.00 a couple, will be for sale at the next meeting, October 17, from Helen Stockhaus, and from members until November 10.

Ticket returns and money for tickets purchased should be in the hands of Helen Stockhaus, Jean Spall or Marion Cook by November 10. Late-comers will be able to purchase tickets at the door.

Your dance chairman, Jean Spall, and Co-Chairman, Helen Stockhaus, will appreciate it if you will let them have an idea of how many tickets you will be wanting, even though you do not purchase them at the October meeting.

The committee is hard at work now so when you see the attractive posters made by Ginny Fink, let them serve as reminders to sell as many tickets as you can.

The evening promises to be extra-special with floral decorations being purchased through Laura Wilhelmy; and if you should be lucky enough to win one of the prizes, you'll be all ready for the holidays... the first prize is a half-gallon bottle of Canadian Club, and the second, a frozen turkey. The dance committee would welcome any donations which could be used for prizes.

No one will want to miss any of the excellent music furnished by Chuck Heck and His Continental Orchestra, an eight-piece group, so be sure to arrive promptly at 10:00.

There will be set-ups available at the Hall, and those that wish may bring their own set-ups as well as their own bottle. A good suggestion from our chairman is to bring along some chip-n-dip or "munchers."

WHO SAID THAT?

"I know where the dance is,
where's the cocktail party?"

SHE'S A WINNER!

Elizabeth Baer, one of our new members, won a Borg bathroom scale at the new Fisher's drawing.

Congratulations!

WELFARE'S WAYS

...by Joan Cave

The first Monday evening of this month was "Las Vegas Night" for the City Hospital group of the Welfare Committee. The young patients of the Psychiatric Ward played Monte Carlo and other games, with paper money and equipment provided by our club. The fun and refreshments were thoroughly enjoyed by the boys who participated.

On October 8, another welfare group drove to Apple Creek Hospital to give a Halloween party for the mentally-retarded men who lives are brightened by these visits. Bean Bag Toss and other games were played, and Halloween treats were distributed.

The Service Committee met at the home of Kay Deunk October 5 to make the bean bags and wrap the treats taken to Apple Creek, and to discuss plans for future service to the other committees.

WAYS AND MEANS

...by Thea Steinmetz

The rustle of falling leaves is here
Our first Ways and Means project is near

Let's get out the elephants so white
Wrap them up for the next meeting night.

Perhaps a few old cookie cutters
Will eliminate the cupboards' clutter.

A rhinestone bracelet, fair and bright
Might look glorious to the next girl's knight.

The earrings bought on the last vacation
Can bring joy to a New Year's celebration.

The old shaving mug, from Grandpa's days
Comes up with flowers and other new ways.

That picture you bought so long ago,
Someone else might like to show.

Tie it with a rubber band or a pretty bow on top
And we'll sell it, 25 cents each, for the entire lot.

COFFEE-CUP PHILOSOPHY

...by Jean Cave

We have come full cycle again, which only goes to prove there is nothing really new under the sun. This time, the cycle concerns itself with the hair-dos and chapeaux currently being shown. The "Look of the Sixties" is a definite throwback to the "Look of the Thirties" and may the repetition of the Thirties stop right there!

Of course, there are a few changes. For example, the hair styles now are more sanitary since the spit-curl of the earlier era has given way to the hair spray. Then, too, there is the use of color on the hair. Many of the matrons of today who are giving such a big boost to Miss Clairol's bank account and adding more jewels to Helena's fingers were the same girls who scorned their more daring peroxide-blond sisters three decades ago.

Hats are really hats again---high, wide, and some are even handsome. There are the berets, the cloches, the floppy brims, the furs and the feathers. So if any of you has a hat in the attic dating back to the Thirties (of course, it belonged to your mother or your cousin or your aunt) break it out, dust it off, surround it with a bit of fake fur, and gal, you have it made for this season!

******

Why is it--that droopy hair,
You simply can't stand any more...
Always looks so lovely there,
Lying on the beauty shop's floor?

KITCHEN KAPERS

This recipe, Rita assures us, is that rare salad, one that our husbands will like. She serves it often after an evening of bridge, or when the occasion demands something not too heavy and not too sweet.

Pineapple Jello Salad

...from the kitchen of Rita Nichols

1 pkg. lemon jello
1 med. can crushed pineapple,
(drain and save juice)
1 large pkg. cream cheese
1 cup chopped celery or walnuts

Make jello and refrigerate until slightly set.
Add cream cheese to pineapple and mix. Add celery or walnuts. Next add slightly set jello to mixture. Fill 8 baking cups with mixture and refrigerate until ready to serve.

Dressing

1/3 cup white sugar
1 heaping Tablespoon flour
1 egg
1 cup pineapple juice

Mix sugar and flour--add egg and mix well. Add juice and cook with constant stirring until thickened. Remove from heat and add 1 Tablespoon margarine. Refrigerate.

To Serve

Shake filling from baking cups on to lettuce leaf and spoon dressing over the top. Serves 8.

BETTY'S BEAT

...by Betty Lou Marek

Before we reluctantly admit that our wonderful summer is over, and give ourselves up to activities of Fall, let's recapture a few happy moments as we find out what our friends in Junior Women's Club did for fun this summer.

New president JAY HAMILTON and husband BILL enjoyed a wonderful week of golf in Canada with MARGARET and JOHN LONG before their family visit in Minnesota. Also answering Canada's call were HELEN and AL STOCKHAUS, MARGARET and BILL HULL, PAT and MIKE MITCHELL and "Hungry Harris" JOY VERRELL and husband CURT. Let her tell you about her "vacation" at the Wigwam.

What A Whopper!

Cambridge Springs, Pa., was host to JOY and BILL SUMMERS early this summer. Later at Lake Chatauqua, N.Y., JOY caught a three-pound Bass which she says she ate all by herself because no one else likes fish. Sound fishy to you? Also interested in fishing were JEAN and JOHN SHINNERS who vacationed at Seneca Lake, New York. A more sophisticated vacation interested NANCY and KEN MURTAUGH who visited New York City and the New England states. To Florida went VIRGINIA and EDMUND DRISCOLL, as did DEE and LYNN DAVIS after first vacationing in the Smokies.

Twenty-seven straight holes on the golf course shows how much DYER and RITA NICHOLS enjoyed their vacation at Oglebay State Park--also the vacation playground of MILDRED CORBIN and Husband and LEONARD and IRMA SEATTER.

A Narrow Escape

Recuperating from the hectivity of the Follies, FLORENCE and ART FISHER with WAYNE and EVELYN KEITH headed for the Black Hills, S.D., while THEA and ART STEINMETZ found relaxation at Virginia Beach in May. Almost not so lucky were JEAN and JIM JUDD who, headed for Virginia Beach, narrowly missed being victims of the hurricane when a tree fell too close to their motel at Williamsburg. Happily, they were unharmed and hurried on to some good times at the Queen Anne. News of former member SHIRLEY MILLER PARSONS is available from LOIS and DAN MOLLER who visited her in New Haven, Conn.

A three-week trip on their cruiser, Albacore, highlighted the summer for FRANK and CAROLYN ZUPAN. Stops included Georgian Bay, Mackinac Island, Lake Michigan and Charlevoix--with only one rainy day the whole trip.

To Nature's Water Wonderland of Michigan went ALICE and CHUCK KNEEN, MARILYN and TOM HEINER, FRAN and RED AHLICH and yours truly whose family is convinced there isn't any other place. (Yes, but EVERY YEAR?)

Was that a second honeymoon for ART and THEA STEINMETZ who went to Niagara Falls this summer? Guess not, since they took her parents who visited them for three weeks. Also on their agenda for family trips were Greenfield Village, Columbus and many other week-end trips. Who stayed with the baby???

New Arrivals

SPEAKING OF BABIES as aren't we always? Here's happy news about our junior Junior Women (and Men): GLORIA and MERLE SMITH'S new darling baby girl is called SUSAN MARIE. Birthday, August 13. Other new darlings are JOHN BEHEIM, son of new member NANCY and MILTON BEHEIM, and CAROL COLLINS, daughter of new member DOROTHY and PAUL COLLINS.

WE'RE GOING TO MISS: NORMA and PHIL BATTES who are moving to San Diego and ERMA HALL whose husband is being transferred.

P.S. We'll try to reach everyone this year but in the meantime all news tid-bits will be given an attentive ear at ED 1-7709.

Maybe this month's column of

SPOTLIGHT

should be called

PITTER-PATTER

At any rate, no one can accuse this club of standing pat!

PAT Westfall, our past Prex is,
Met her Bill at college in Tex-is
Three children, a Great Dane dog
And the pool,--
Pat's motto must be "Keep Cool."

PAT Koss came from the Windy City
(Try rhyming Chicago, in a ditty)
As Treasurer she kept the books
Pat also golfs, bowls and cooks.

At Fairview High, the Steiners met
As Board-member-at-large PAT is all set
Arizona's their vacation spot
Their home-built pool, they like a lot.

PAT Campbell's one of the busy bees
Flower arranging and atiques, her hobbies
Nursing, swimming, her boy and girl
And Adnan Don keep her in a whirl

Long Island's PAT Rowley wed a local boy
Now Susan is her pride and joy
G. E. has moved them east and west
Now Cleveland claims them, location's best

A Fairview girl who's traveled far
PATsy Drennan is mighty "yare"
Parkview Nursery School gives her joy,
As do her two children, each a boy.

PAT Seeger's another from Long Island's North Shore
After Smith, she wed the boy next door.
Two little girls add to her delight,
Civic Committee holds her interest bright.

PAT Webster's from Pittsburgh, now you know,
She later wed her high school beau,
Their young sons number three
Camping's fun for this family

There's nary a line about PATS
Mitchell, McAulay, Pensiero,
Mack and Aborn,

Cause when your reporter phoned,
they were "Gorn"!

FAIRVIEWS AROUND US

...by Ann Slanders

It gives me great pleasure to have my widely syndicated column appear in the official publication of the Fairview Park Junior Women's Club. In the years to come, I hope I shall have the opportunity to get to know many of you a little better.

For those of you who are not already acquainted with my writing let me tell you what I propose to do. Interesting things happen to all of us, but, alas, too many times these episodes are forgotten. It is my aim to record those items for all your Club members to read. A slight chuckle now and then shall be our reward, I hope.

As a starter I thought we ought to "pick on" (or should I say pick out?) two of our presidents, both past and present.

One thing happened to Virginia Mayberry this past summer at Baldwin Wallace that she would rather forget. As she questioned a freshman, who was standing next to her, about the value of purchasing an Activities Ticket, she was met with a raised eyebrow and the following most encouraging remark: "Oh, you just might enjoy going to a dance."

******

Who has seen the lady in blue? Dior blue yet! Wool bermudas with matching weskit and knee socks. This fashion plate turns out to be our own Jay Hamilton. One might wonder if this stunning get-up was purchased from the incomparable Norell. He is the one designer who can boast not only Jackie Kennedy and Dinah Shore among his clients, but also numerous New York and Texas socialites. You looked beautiful when I saw you, but my dear, every fashion-conscious woman knows one should wear sable-lined moccasins with such a high-style casual.

******

One question I have been asked many times is, how have I been able to keep up with the deluge of mail I am getting. Since I have no secretary to aid me (I hate to pay one) I take pleasure in answering every letter myself. This might seem like an impossible task; however, with the great morale support my French poodle gives me, it's a snap.

So ladies, if you have a question you would like answered in this space, feel free to drop me a line, in care of the editor of this magnificent publication.

******

Until we see you again next month, wear a hat and remember: A head is only a head until you put a hat on it, then you have a "hatted head."

PREVIEW: Next month a choice collection of Hors d'Oeuvres found on my many trips around the world.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Madam:

I have never written a letter to the Editor before, but I was so happy with the response I received when I called on some of our members to assist me in getting the FAIRVIEWS ready for mailing that I just had to let everyone know.

As you know, the FAIRVIEWS was very late in getting to press last month, and the girls that helped me out did so on one hour's notice. They deserve a big thank-you for dropping their Friday chores and coming to my aid so you could receive your copy before the meeting. Thanks to Pru Ross who did the mimeographing, Ginny Driscoll, who, with the aid of her car, was able to pick up Mary Seed, and to Marilyn Szalay who ran to her bicycle to come to the aid of your club, and last but not least to Florita Walton who rushed to the scene when she should have been typing stencils for Fairnighters. That's what I call cooperation.

Many thanks, girls!

Rita Nichols

P.S. I am looking for three or four girls each month to help. This is a pleasant job with no standing. We can arrange for you to work part-time or regular. I can promise no Friday work and better scheduling. It does not pay well, but you do get to see the copy before anyone else, and we do have a coffee break. No Union Cards needed. Any applicants? Call me at ED 1-0236.

All letters-to-the-editor will be happily received, both brickbats and orchids. Use this space if you're busting your buttons, popping your top, dreaming of daisies, or dwelling on the daffy side!
